To Our Friends in Granville

The progress of our city, to a large extent depends on its neighboring towns.

As these various towns move forward, so does the city that interests itself in their many problems.

Westfield, for years, has been fortunate in being the trading center for over twenty towns and its steady, healthy growth has been helped by the ever-present feeling of real friendship that exists.

We hope to always merit this friendship and we consider that your problems are our problems and your successes are our successes.
